

Storyboard 1

This is the home page. The flag will be shown next to a header along with a one sentence slogan next to the header. The content under the header contains a slideshow to the left of the page, a button to a local airport finder page, and a biography below it.

The header is changed to suit the page's content. This page is a very important page displaying the laws and regulations of the country in an IFrame. It takes over most of the page and leaves a slight margin on each side.

The header is changed to suit the page's content. This is the page that shows off some of the great cultures in South Korea. There is a passage on the culture along with a slideshow to the side.

Why I Chose To Use Footer Navigation: The Footer Navigation is used because the page is short vertically so I think that a Footer Navigation will add length to the page and make it just a little bit more formal.
